

EASTERN POTTERY OFFERED AT SALE

T. B. Clarke's Collection to Go Under Hammer Jan. 8—Is on View Now.

MANY RARE SPECIMENS

Hispano-Moresque and Chinese Ware as Well as Italian Work Included.

What will doubtless prove to be the important pottery sale of the season has been staged by the American Art Association. It is the property of Thomas B. Clarke of this city, who is widely known as a connoisseur, especially of Eastern art. The sale of his majolica plates was one of the principal events of last year.

The present collection embraces groups of brilliant specimens of Hispano-Moresque ware, unusual examples of Castel Durante, Rhodian, and Persian; besides Han, Tang and Sung and other Chinese potteries.

Most of them are shown in cases brilliantly illuminated for the benefit of collectors, but a few of the large pieces are used decoratively in the corners of the galleries, and the lights and shadows play beautifully over their forms, accentuating in continually surprising fashion the charm of line and modelling. The ornamental value of the pieces for domestic decoration is one of the features to make it a matter of regret that many of the objects will eventually land in the drier atmosphere of museums.

The Castel Durante and Hispano-Moresque groups are exposed in the main entrance gallery and react upon each other in pleasing combinations of color. The checkerboard of the deep basins in Hispano-Moresque ware varies in quality with every angle from which it is regarded, having a peculiar life and life in consequence. They date from the sixteenth century. The Italian pieces embrace all sorts of bowls, bottles and urns, and all are in the typical Italian style, with flowing and easy ornamentation.

Besides Castel Durante there are pieces of Urbino, Druis and Gombrogn. A special cup from Urbino, shows a woman sitting under a canopy bed with a maid in attendance and outside an extensive Italian landscape, the whole in rich colors. The pieces of the well-known Mannheim collection.

There is a great punchbowl of Castel Durante ware that is over seventeen inches in diameter and decorated with glowing colors. It is of sixteenth century. From the same time and the same pottery Mr. Clarke shows many jars, many of which are decorated with portraits or heraldic devices. Two large wine jugs of Urbino manufacture are particularly beautiful in shape, glazed in a creamy white and decorated with and decorated with escutcheons and inscriptions beneath their spouts.

Rhodian figures from the sixteenth century are also on view.

DINERS SEAT ORANGES IN TREES

Brilliant Party Given at Sherry's to Introduce Miss Evelyn W. Preston.

CHILDREN'S RECEPTIONS

First of Colony Dances for Girls—Miss Dearth Makes Bow at Reception.

One of the most brilliant parties thus far of the season was given last night at Sherry's by Ralph J. Preston to introduce his daughter, Miss Evelyn W. Preston. First was a dinner for nearly two hundred people served in the tapestry suite, and then a dance. Mr. Preston and his daughter received in the salon which leads into the tapestry suite. There were two large tables for dinner, one of which was decorated with orange trees in full fruit and the other with camellia trees covered with pink and white blossoms. There were also tables decorated with Japanese iris, roses, orchids and other flowers in shades of pink, lavender and red, besides yellow flowers. Conrad's Orchestra played the music for the dinner.

The dinner guests included many of the married friends of Mr. Preston and some of the younger members of society. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Goetz, Mr. and Mrs. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon Norris, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer, Miss Mabel Gerry, Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams Delano, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Dilworth, Mr. and Mrs. Lydie Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford A. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Le Grand Cronin, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. John Magee, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Post, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bradish G. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Livermore, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Gray G. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Pruyn, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. August G. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. J. Nease Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland D. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies, Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Worthington Bull, Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Ingen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Van derbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Miss Ruth Morgan and Miss Anna Sand.

The Chinese pottery is very extensive and is for the most part in rich quiet colors, the glasses of the so-called Oriental style. There are a number of quaint animal forms, some figures on horseback and others seated. There are also a few pieces of pottery in brilliant colors, occasionally a conventionalized mask.

There are a number of quaint animal forms, some figures on horseback and others seated. There are also a few pieces of pottery in brilliant colors, occasionally a conventionalized mask.

Among the vases in cream white there is a very handsome specimen with a succulent, almost human, face, a long neck and two spirited dragons gripping the lips of the vase and extending to the sides in the form of handles. It is decorated by large galleons bearing the Chinese characters for "peace" and "prosperity" in gold relief, the tones of creamy lavender glass being a blend of characteristic Sung and Yuan types. There are numerous other vases, some of which are decorated with figures of ages and symbols painted boldly in black.

The Chinese granary urns are in subdued but often rich colors, the shape being decorated with animalistic feet and with a cover suggesting a tiled roof. A tall Han vase has a cracked turquoise green glaze with a decoration around the shoulder in relief depicting a mountainous landscape with a boat in the foreground. It is a distinguished object of art, a fine type of many similar vases in Mr. Clarke's collection.

The single color pieces include celadons, lavenders, and a large number of pieces of unusual richness, lettuce greens and rare yellows and reds. The gayest pieces in the Chinese section, however, are the pierced garden seats in brilliant enamels and the large Ming incense burners.

The Clarke collection numbers about 750 pieces and will require four afternoons for its dispersal. It is on public view until the sale, which begins January 3.

MAESTROVIC COMING.

Great Serbian Sculptor to Attend His Exhibition Here.

Not only has the exhibition in America of the work of the great Serbian sculptor, Ivan Meastrovic, been announced, but Meastrovic himself is to come to this country. According to Miss Catherine D. Groth, who is directing the enterprise, the Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia, who yesterday his willingness to act as chief patron at the exhibition of the works of this friend.

The exhibition, which is scheduled for some time in March, will be attended, no doubt, with great difficulties, for most of Meastrovic's sculptures are huge in size.

It is this that has heretofore made all the New York managers balk at the idea of undertaking the show, for it has seemed impossible to find a suitable place to exhibit the sculptures, especially in view of the insurance rates.

Ever since the Serbian sculptor set all London aflutter with his astonishing carvings, our New York experts have seen in Meastrovic a chance to create a genuine artistic sensation here. It has remained for a woman, however, to display the business courage necessary for the enterprise. If Miss Groth does not succeed in getting Meastrovic's works to this country there can be no doubt whatever that the great sculptor that the Serbian has obtained in Europe will be repeated here.

Meastrovic has been declared by the leading critics of the old world to be one of the most original of the modern sculptors. He is a Serb and he belongs to the "race of giants in art; he has something of the terrible of Michael Angelo; he thinks in stone and attacks his material with furious energy."

Rodin, the French master, is another who has given Meastrovic the most generous acclaim.

MISS WARREN IS BETROTHED.

Engagement to Reginald Rives of Park Avenue Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Warren of 25 East Forty-seventh street have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Gabrielle Warren, to Reginald Rives, son of Mrs. Reginald Rives of 515 Park avenue.

The betrothal is a grand affair, the late George Henry Warren, made her debut in Newport three years ago. Mr. Warren is one of the leading architects of the city. Mr. Rives has been prominent in war relief work.

Mr. Rives is a member of the Knickerbocker Club. His mother was a daughter of the late Edward H. Bulkeley of New York.

PUCCINI'S "TOSCA" REPEATED.

Noted Stage Part of Cavendish in Caruso's Place.

At the Metropolitan Opera House last evening Puccini's "Tosca" was repeated. The chief singers in the cast were the same as at the previous hearing of the opera, except that Mr. Caruso now sang the part of Cavaradossi in place of Mr. Caruso. The audience was large and it gave abundant applause.

The performance as a whole was one of merit. Mme. Moore, who as Floria Tosca was first heard here at the recent performance and thereby made a favorable impression, again aroused the admiration through the dramatic intelligence shown in her general impersonation of the role, as also by the charm and grace of her singing.

Mr. Caruso as Cavaradossi finds the music of the part well suited to his voice, and his singing of it is of a fine quality. The "Scarpia" Mr. Polacco conducted.

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Davenport of 51 West Forty-seventh street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lorna Folson Davenport, to Charles Milton Walton, Jr., of Stamford, Conn. Mr. Walton was graduated from Yale in 1914 and is in his final year at the Harvard Law School.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Cox of 257 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Evelyn Cox, to Frederick J. Bird of East Orange, N. J., formerly of Brooklyn. No date has been set for the wedding.

SOME "INE OLD CATHEDRAL" (Goddess), including one specially fine (painted) by Norman Shaw for the late T. H. White Star Line Steamer. Particulars apply J. M. Harrison, 2 Exchange Street East, Liverpool, England.
